FIELDNOTES ON THE REMARKABLE FLOWERING OF MENNONITE/S WRITING IN NORTH AMERICA

WITH AUTHOR

● HILDI FROESE TIESSEN

In this presentation, the author will address what people actually mean when they talk about “Mennonite Writing,” while she explores the history of this movement: where it began and what it has become. In her stories about Mennonite/s writing, she will invoke some familiar (Rudy Wiebe, Miriam Toews, Patrick Friesen, Andreas Schroeder, David Bergen, Di Brandt) and some not-so-familiar Mennonite literary voices.

“Her thinking is astute, her writing clear and accessible, and her impact enormous.”
